App of the week: Nutka

Nutka is an excellent app for practising note reading skills. There are many different levels within this app and you can even set the app to practise reading particular groups of notes.

This is a fun and exciting way to practise your sight reading.

Website of the week: ABRSM Classical 100

ABRSM's Classical 100 is a fantastic collection of 100 carefully selected pieces of music and activities for you to share with your families over the coming weeks. Now, thanks to special support from Decca Classics and Classic FM, you and your families can enjoy listening and learning together too! Register for access to this collection of music using the website below.

Composing music for videogames

Learn about the different elements of video game music. Listen to Ninichi describe how she creates music for video games. Listen to the theme from Bitesize's game, Guardians: Defenders of Mathmatika. What sort of atmosphere do you think it creates?

Have a go at composing an ostinato pattern for a video game!
